

Online Casino in Italy

In the last decades the phenomenon of online casino is progressively spreading , expanding the number of users worldwide in contrast with the reduced number of players in traditional casinos, which were (and still are) obviously limited to a specific clientele.

In Italy, gambling is regulated by several legislative restrictions; as a matter of fact, traditional casinos authorized in Italy are only four. Online casinos have recently encouraged - thanks to the Internet as well as to a vast range of payment methods- a remarkable increase of Italian players, providing the possibility of playing from home and with a low budget.

Although many online casinos have been blocked by AAMS (Independent Administration of State Monopoly) after the approval of the Financial Law in 2006 (Legge 266/2005 artt. 535-536) , the number of authorized online casinos is still substantially high. At any rate, the bravest players might take advantage of little tricks to bypass the blackout.

As in traditional casinos, a large variety of games – from roulette to blackjack, from poker to slot machines – are provided by online casinos . Moreover, online casinos usually offer an initial bonus (ranging from 20 to 500 Euros) without a necessarily immediate deposit.

The first step to follow to play online casino is very easy: the user needs to register and choose the most suitable payment method on the online casino's website to deposit and subsequently withdraw its potential gains;

Once the registration is complete, it is generally required the installation of an executable file (.exe) downloadable for free from the selected online casino.

Finally, the last step is to launch the online casino program from the shortcut saved on the computer desktop in order to start playing- et voilà, the player will be immediately immersed in a virtual Las Vegas, ready to be kissed by the blindfolded Goddess of Fortune.

Antonella Barbieri